EWOWC is proudly supported by our parent organisation ACLI[^] and friend Young's List in the second of our exciting events as an organisation.

We welcome lawyers, financial planners, estate advisors, app and web developers, digital professionals, regulators and policy professionals to join my fellow Committee Member Paul D. Reynolds, Barrister at the Victorian Bar, as moderator, and our Committee colleagues including Kimberley Martin, for a discussion lead by a stellar panel and town hall conversation.

Please click through the links below for you and your colleagues to secure your spot on 18 February 2021 from 5:00pm to 6:30pm.

We're blessed with a great line up, and some special guests within law, regulation and the tech sectors from across the country and New Zealand.

For those connections who have experience with the COVID signing and witnessing laws, and RedCrest as a probate system, or an opinion about these developments, we invite them to share their experience with our local and international audience during the open town hall chat where your pre-registered questions are welcome.

The event registration link is <https://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/electronic-signing-witnessing-and-probate-during-covid-registration-140002397941> and we would be delighted if interested folk would join the discussion at <https://www.facebook.com/groups/3343126059072963> after following <https://fb.me/e/38QxZ9G5U>.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Warm regards,

Carol Grimshaw LL.M, LL.M (LP)
